SOFIA – THE CITY THAT GROWS, BUT NEVER AGES

At the heart of the Balkans, at the foot of the majestic Vitosha Mountain, lies Sofia – one of Europe's oldest capitals, with a history spanning more than 7,000 years. Here, layers of time intertwine in a unique way – ancient Roman streets, early Christian churches, Ottoman monuments, classical European architecture and modern buildings coexist in harmony, turning the city into a place where the past and present meet at every turn.

“Sofia” means Divine Wisdom – a symbol of the city's spirituality and timelessness. Its history dates back to the Neolithic period (7th millennium BC), when its rich mineral springs attracted the first settlers. Over the centuries, Thracians, Romans, Slavs and Proto-Bulgarians all left their mark here.

Known as Serdica, the city became one of the most important centres of the Roman Empire. Emperor Constantine the Great valued it so highly that he is said to have declared: “Serdica is my Rome.” It is no coincidence that today, in the very heart of modern Sofia, visitors can admire the impressive remains of ancient baths, fortification walls and temples.

During the Middle Ages, the city was known as Sredets, owing to its strategic location in the centre of the Balkan Peninsula. Later, it took its name from the Basilica of St. Sophia. Since 1879, Sofia has been the capital of the restored Bulgarian state. In a remarkably short time, it developed into a modern city, its elegant appearance shaped by talented architects from across Europe.

Saint Nedelya Cathedral

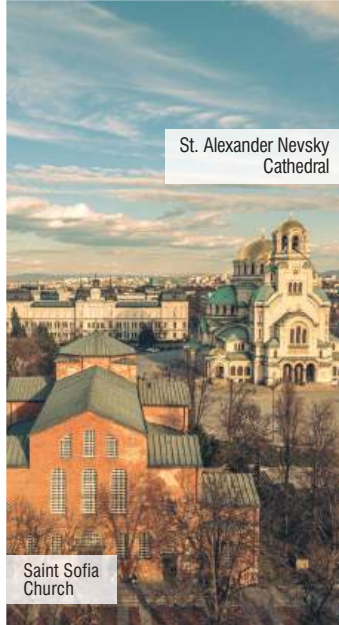

A walk through the city centre is a true journey through the centuries. Within just a few minutes' walk of one another are the ancient Serdica archaeological complex, the churches of St. Sophia and St. Alexander Nevsky, the Rotunda of St. George, Banya Bashi Mosque, the Central Mineral Baths, the Synagogue and the Catholic Cathedral – a unique ensemble celebrating cultural and religious diversity.

Today, Sofia is home to around 1.3 million people. The city offers a vibrant cultural life, with museums, theatres, galleries and festivals, as well as lively streets lined with welcoming restaurants and cafés that combine tradition with contemporary cuisine.

One of the capital's greatest treasures is its nature. Few cities in the world offer such an easy transition from a bustling city centre to mountain trails and ski slopes in just twenty minutes.

Vitosha Nature Park provides excellent opportunities for recreation, while the healing mineral springs continue to be one of the city's most valuable symbols.

The capital's motto – “Grows, but Never Ages” – perfectly captures the spirit of the city. Sofia is not simply a capital, but a place shaped by civilizations and wisdom, where every street tells a story and every visit inspires the desire to return.

Sofia is more than just *a capital city.

It is a city of civilizations, spirituality, and timeless wisdom — a place where every street tells a story, every building preserves a memory, and every visit awakens the desire to return once again.

СОФИЯ – ГРАДЪТ, КОЙТО РАСТЕ, НО НЕ СТАРЕЕ

В сърцето на Балканите, в подножието на величествената Витоша, се намира София – една от най-гревните европейски столици с над 7 000-годишна история. Тук пластове на времето се преплитат по неповторим начин – антични римски улици, раннохристиянски храмове, османски паметници, класическа европейска и модерна архитектура съществуват в хармония, превръщайки града в място, където миналото и настоящето се срещат на всяка крачка.

„София“ означава Божия Премъдрост – символ на духовността и непреходността на града. Историята му започва още през неолита (VII хил. пр. Хр.), когато богатите минерални извори привличат първите заселници. През вековете тук оставят своя отпечатък траки, римляни, славяни и прабългари.

С името Сердика градът се превръща в един от найважните центрове на Римската империя. Император Константин Велики толкова го ценял, че казал: „Сердика е моят Рим.“. Неслучайно днес в самото сърце на съвременна София могат да се видят внушителните останки от някогашни терми, крепостни стени и храмове.

През Средновековието градът е известен като Средец заради стратегическото си положение в центъра на полуострова, а по-късно приема името на базиликата „Света София“. От 1879 г. София е столица на възстановената българска държава. За кратко време тя се превръща в модерен град, чийто изящен облик е създаден от талантиливи архитекти от цяла Европа.

Народно събрание

Разходката из централната част е истинско пътешествие през вековете. На минути пеша един от друг се намират античният комплекс „Сердика“, храмовете „Света София“ и „Свети Александър Невски“, Ротондата „Свети Георги“, джамията „Баня баши“, Централната минерална баня, Синагогата и Католическата катедрала – уникален ансамбъл на културно и религиозно многообразие.

Днес София е дом на около 1,3 милиона души. Градът предлага богат културен живот с музеи, театри, галерии, фестивали, както и оживени улици с уютни заведения, съчетаващи традицията със съвременната гастрономия.

Едно от най-големите богатства на столицата е природата. Малко градове в света предлагат преход от оживения център до планински пътеки и ски писти само за двадесет минути. Природен парк „Витоша“ осигурява отлични условия за отдих, а лековитите минерални извори продължават да бъдат един от най-ценните символи на града.

Природен парк "Витоша"

Девизът на столицата – „Расте, но не старее“ – прекрасно описва духа на града. София не е просто столица, а място на цивилизации и мъдрост, където всяка улица разказва история, а всяко посещение буди желанието да се върнете отново.

Сърцето на София

София не е просто столица.

*Тя е град на цивилизации, на духовност и на вечната мъдрост
– място, където всяка улица разказва история, всяка сграда пази спомен, а всяко посещение засилва желанието ви да се върнете отново.*

The Saint Nedelya Church

An Orthodox Christian church that rises in the center of the square bearing the same name, right in the heart of the capital.

It is dedicated to Saint Kyriaki the Great Martyr.

The church is also a symbolic link between Bulgaria and Serbia, as it houses the relics of Stefan Uroš II Milutin, a medieval Serbian king.

The Church of St. Petka Samardzhiyska

Church of St. Petka Samardzhiyska is a small medieval Orthodox church in the center of Sofia, near Serdika metro station. It was built approximately between the 11th and 14th centuries. The church is partly below street level, which was common for churches during the Ottoman period. Inside there are wall paintings (frescoes) from the 14th–19th centuries. It is one of the oldest preserved churches in Sofia.

The Statue of Sofia – Serdika Metro Station

The Statue of Sofia stands on the site of the main ancient gate of the city. Khan Krum passed through this gate in 809, when the city was surrendered to him.

The monument stands 26 meters tall and represents an allegorical image of the saint. It is the work of sculptor Georgi Chapkanov and architect Stanislav Konstantinov.

St. Joseph's Church

St. Joseph's Church is one of the largest Roman Catholic churches in Bulgaria. On May 25, 2002, during his apostolic pilgrimage to Bulgaria, Pope John Paul II laid the foundation stone for the new cathedral on the site of the original church. The construction of the new church was made possible through financial donations from Catholics around the world.

Sofia Synagogue

The Sofia Synagogue is a symbol of Bulgarian Jewry. Built between 1905 and 1909, it is the largest synagogue in the Balkans and the third largest in Europe.

In addition to its unique Sephardic-style architecture and the massive 2,200-kilogram brass chandelier, the building also houses the Jewish Historical Museum.

Note: To enter the synagogue, please ring the bell at the entrance on Ekzarh Joseph Street.

Hali – Kaufland Market Hall

The construction of the building began in 1909, based on a design by architect Naum Torbov, and it opened its doors in 1911. The interior halls are an excellent example of Neo-Byzantine architecture, while the exterior façade is richly decorated with intricate stone sculptures.

The Central Sofia Market Hall is the first modern covered market in Bulgaria. Thanks to its magnificent architecture, the building was declared a cultural monument of national importance in 1955.

Today, you can enjoy aromatic coffee, pizza, and delicious sandwiches in a unique historic setting. Take a break, relax, and soak in the atmosphere of the Central Market Hall – a place where tradition meets the rhythm of the city.

Banya Bashi Mosque

(can also be just “The Mosque” in informal context)

In 1567, the Ottoman architect Mimar Sinan built a mosque using red bricks and stone. Above the entrance arch, there is a stone plaque with a painted inscription that is now unreadable. The mosque is still active today and can hold up to 1,200 people during Bayram celebrations, although its regular capacity is smaller. The name of the mosque – a remnant of the Ottoman era – means “many baths”. It was called so because it was built over natural mineral springs.

Sofia History Museum / Central Mineral Bath

The Central Mineral Bath was built between 1905 and 1910, based on a design by architects Petko Momchilov and Friedrich Grünanger. Considered one of the finest examples of Bulgarian architecture, it combines a richly decorated façade and interior in the so-called “national style,” also known as Neo-Byzantine.

The bath operated until 1988 and was later repurposed as the Museum of the History of Sofia. Its north wing still functions today, using the natural mineral water.

Museum of Illusions

The museum exhibition spans 400 m², where illusions meet scientific inventions and art. Physics and optics are presented alongside mysterious artworks and classic riddles. This exceptional educational experience is enhanced by interactive entertainment – drawing with light, creating shadows, and capturing unforgettable moments in an upside-down world. Have doubts about how a particular invention works? Explore, experiment, and let curiosity guide you.

L'Étranger restaurant

The oldest French restaurant in Sofia welcomes its guests with a warm atmosphere and timeless French elegance. For the past 25 years, the Roche family has been creating culinary delights in the ground floor of a charming old house, located in one of Sofia's most authentic neighborhoods. This cozy bistro is the perfect setting for a romantic date or a delightful dinner with friends. As L'Étranger is a small and intimate venue, reservations are highly recommended. The menu is concise and features classic dishes from French cuisine.

The center of Sofia is filled with layers of history – from ancient ruins to grand architecture and sacred sites. Every turn might lead you to a hidden story, a quiet courtyard, or a place that has witnessed centuries.

Along the way, you'll discover many more beautiful and unexpected places. Take your time, enjoy the walk, and don't forget to pause for a break now and then – the city reveals its charm slowly.

For the best experience, we recommend starting from the first location on the route. Each stop builds on the last, guiding you through Sofia's stories step by step.

St. George Rotunda Place

The red brick Rotunda of St. George is considered the oldest preserved building in Sofia. It stands behind the Balkan Hotel, nestled among the remains of the ancient Roman town of Serdica. Inside the church, three layers of frescoes have been discovered, with the earliest dating back to the 10th century. The dome is adorned with magnificent frescoes of 22 prophets, each over two meters tall.

The National Museum of Archaeology

The National Museum of Archaeology is located in the center of Sofia. It is housed in the 15th-century Buyuk Mosque, one of the oldest preserved buildings in the city.

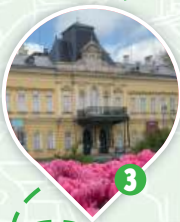

Inside, you'll find fascinating treasures from prehistoric times to the Middle Ages — a must-see for anyone curious about Bulgaria's ancient past.

Royal Palace

The first home of the National Gallery was the Royal Palace in Sofia. Today, its elegant halls host temporary exhibitions of both Bulgarian and international art.

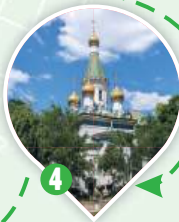

The building was constructed shortly after Bulgaria's Liberation from Ottoman rule (1878), and following the declaration of Sofia as the capital (1879). The first Bulgarian knyaz, Alexander I Battenberg (1879–1886), commissioned Viennese architect Viktor Rumpelmayer to transform the former Ottoman konak into a royal residence. The Palace officially opened on 26 December 1882.

Russian Church

Built in 1912 by Russian workmen, this church stands at the corner of Tsar Osvoboditel Boulevard and Benkovski Street. It reflects the traditional style of Moscow's decorative arts, painting, and architecture.

A tall central dome is surrounded by four smaller ones, creating a striking silhouette. The exterior is a visual delight, adorned with rich colors and intricate details that make the Russian Church one of the most charming landmarks in Sofia.

St. Alexander Nevski Temple Church

The St. Alexander Nevsky Cathedral is one of Sofia's most iconic landmarks — a place where every visitor stops in awe.

It was built in honor of Russian Tsar Alexander II, known in Bulgaria as the "Tsar Liberator", whose army freed the country from Ottoman rule. The cathedral was named after St. Alexander Nevsky, patron saint of the Tsar and the Romanov dynasty.

The foundation stone was laid in 1882, but construction wasn't completed until 1912.

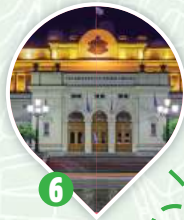

The Parliament

The National Assembly building, declared a cultural monument, stands on the square bearing the same name, along Tsar Osvoboditel Boulevard.

It was constructed in three stages between 1884 and 1928, based on plans by Viennese architect Konstantin Jovanović. The elegant neoclassical design, with its symmetrical façade and arched windows, reflects the aspirations of the newly liberated Bulgarian state.

Sofia University "St. Kliment Ohridski"

Sofia University "St. Kliment Ohridski" is the oldest institution of higher education in Bulgaria, founded on October 1, 1888.

The main building was constructed between 1924 and 1934 with the financial support of brothers Evlogi and Hristo Georgievi, whose statues now stand proudly on its façade.

Its grand architecture and academic legacy make it not only a symbol of knowledge, but also a landmark deeply woven into Sofia's cultural identity.

St. St. Cyril and Methodius National Library

The National Library, named after the Slavic first teachers — St. Cyril and St. Methodius, who created the Cyrillic alphabet, holds a collection of over 7 million titles from all over the world, in a wide variety of languages.

Founded on June 17, 1879, the library was originally housed in two separate buildings, both destroyed during the Anglo-American bombing of Sofia in 1944. It was later rebuilt and officially reopened in 1953.

Restaurant Club of the Architects

Tucked away in a quiet courtyard just off the busy boulevards, the Architect's Club is housed in a beautiful historic building that blends timeless architectural charm with a cozy, artistic atmosphere.

The building was designed in 1912 in Baroque style and completed in 1914 by Bulgarian architect Kiril Marichkov.

It's the perfect place to unwind after your walk — enjoy a drink, reflect on the day, and soak in the ambiance where Sofia's cultural and creative spirit quietly lingers.

This walk leads through Sofia's historic core, a path paved with stories of power, faith, and national spirit. From ancient temples to grand institutions, every step reveals layers of the city's identity. Take your time, pause often, and let the yellow stones guide you through Sofia's living history.

Look up, slow down, and let the architecture speak — its details hold memories of generations. And when the walk ends, the city will feel just a little more familiar, and maybe even a little more yours.

The Secrets of Sofia

29min
Walk 2100M

YOU CHOOSE

For the best experience, we recommend starting from the first location on the route. Each stop builds on the last, guiding you through Sofia's stories step by step.

The Saint Sofia Basilica

It is one of the four symbols on the capital's coat of arms. After many years of hard work on the project by a large team of archaeologists, historians, architects, and preservationists, residents and visitors of the capital will have the opportunity to connect with Sofia's rich archaeological heritage.

Stepping inside feels like traveling centuries back, where every stone has a story.

The Monument to the Unknown Soldier

This monument honors the countless Bulgarian soldiers who lost their lives in defense of their homeland. It features an eternal flame and soil from Stara Zagora and Shipka Pass—sites of two pivotal battles during the Russo-Turkish War of Liberation.

Visitors often pause here not only to pay their respects, but to feel the quiet power of a nation's memory.

The Monument to the Tsar Liberator

Also known as the Monument of the Liberators, this is one of the most iconic and artistically significant landmarks in Sofia. It was built in gratitude to Russian Emperor Alexander II, honoring Bulgaria's Liberation in 1878 and symbolizing national freedom.

The monument was designed by Italian sculptor Arnaldo Zocchi, winner of an international competition in 1900. The foundation stone was laid on April 23, 1901, and the unveiling took place in 1907.

Today, it remains a powerful reminder of Bulgaria's connection to its history — a solemn figure watching over the city, steady and timeless.

The Tomb of Prince Alexander I Battenberg

Tucked just off the busy streets, this quiet space holds the memory of Bulgaria's first ruler after the Liberation. Prince Alexander I reigned from 1879 to 1886. After his early death in Graz, his final wish was clear: to return to the land he once led.

Step inside, and the noise of the city fades. What remains is silence, reverence, and the feeling that you've entered a space where history still breathes.

Tavern “Izbata”

Located in the heart of Sofia, it takes you back to the atmosphere of a traditional Bulgarian village home, where you can enjoy delicious Bulgarian cuisine.

The tavern brings together authentic recipes from all regions of Bulgaria. Individual visits are possible with a reservation, and guests can also enjoy a rich selection of Bulgarian wines.

The restaurant is especially popular with international groups who come not only to enjoy a traditional meal, but also to take a taste of Bulgaria home with them.

Capital Temple “St. Sedmochislenitsi”

The Church of St. Sedmochislenitsi has an ancient history. Until 1900, it was known as the “Kodja Dervish Mehmed Pasha Mosque,” also called the “Imaret Mosque.” Older Sofia residents know it as the “Black Mosque.”

Let us recall the core idea that inspired several guardians of national spirit, starting with Petko Karavelov — whose grave lies in front of the altar wall — to invest time and resources into establishing the Church of St. Sedmochislenitsi. The goal was to glorify in Divine Service the Slavic-Bulgarian enlighteners: the holy brothers Cyril and Methodius, their disciples Clement, Naum, Sava, Gorazd, and Angelarii, and all other saints of God who have shone in holiness on Bulgarian land.

Ivan Vazov National Theatre

The Ivan Vazov National Theatre is Bulgaria’s oldest and most prestigious theatrical institution, standing as a dazzling masterpiece of Neoclassical architecture. Designed by the renowned Viennese architectural duo Hermann Helmer and Ferdinand Fellner, the magnificent building opened its doors in 1907.

The striking red and white facade is crowned by an ornate pediment depicting Apollo and the muses of art, supported by majestic white marble columns. The theatre proudly bears the name of Ivan Vazov, the patriarch of Bulgarian literature.

Nestled in the lush surroundings of the City Garden, the lively square in front of the theatre, complete with its beautiful fountains, is a beloved gathering spot for locals. Pause here to soak in the vibrant atmosphere and feel the enduring artistic heartbeat of the capital.

This walk isn’t just about landmarks — it’s about what lingers between them. It leads through Sofia’s quiet power: stories behind monuments, meanings in buildings, spirit in side streets. From the solemn grace of the Basilica of St. Sofia to the buzz of Shishman Street, this route reveals layers that rarely make the guidebooks — but stay with you.

You’ll pass memorials that speak without words, churches full of memory, and corners where the past feels close. Then, almost without noticing, you’ll step into a livelier Sofia — with local shops, galleries, and bars alive with energy.

It’s a journey of contrasts: stone and soul, silence and chatter. Every turn holds something unsaid.

Take your time. Let the details draw you in. Because the real Sofia doesn’t shout — it whispers. And if you listen, it will tell you its secrets.

Vitosha:
The green heart
above the capital.

YOU CHOOSE

For the best experience, we recommend starting from the first location on the route. Each stop takes you higher into Vitosha's embrace, guiding you from the city's edge to pure nature step by step. The entire route is fully accessible and perfect for bikes!

Bike Center – 170 Cherni Vrah Blvd.

Every great mountain escape needs a proper starting line, and ours begins at our favorite bike shop in the city — Bike Center. Located on the main boulevard leading up to the mountain, it's a paradise for outdoor lovers and professional riders alike. Take a moment to browse their impressive selection of premium gear, catch the contagious vibe of the local cycling community, and get inspired for the ascent ahead. It's exactly where city life shifts into mountain gear.

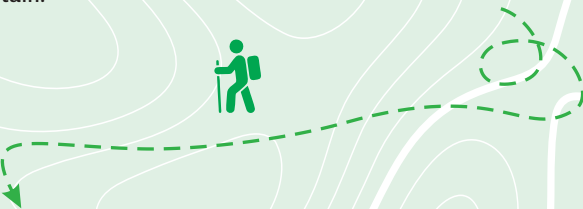

Getting to the next stop: Just 130 meters away from the shop, catch bus 64 at the “KV. KRASTOVA VADA” stop. Ride for four stops and get off at “KV. DRAGALEVTSI”, where your hike towards the Aleko Waterfalls begins

Aleko Waterfalls

Leaving the city buzz behind, the trail leads you straight into the cooling shade of the forest. Follow the murmuring sound of water to discover the Aleko Waterfalls – a picturesque cascade hidden among lush greenery. The falls are proudly named after Aleko Konstantinov, the celebrated Bulgarian writer who founded the organized hiking movement in the country back in 1895.

Here you will see a beautiful series of cascading steps along the Dragalevska River, reaching a total height of about 15-20 meters. Known affectionately as “Shtastlivetsa” (The Lucky One), Aleko often hiked these very trails, drawing endless inspiration from his beloved mountain.

Pasha Bunar Shelter

Further along the green trail, nestled deep within the old beech forest, you will reach the Pasha Bunar shelter. The name translates from Ottoman Turkish as “The Pasha’s Spring,” and true to its origins, the area features a refreshing mountain water fountain. With its solid stone structure and wooden benches, it serves as the ultimate resting spot. It’s a favorite place for hikers to catch their breath, enjoy a quick forest picnic, and listen to the birds before continuing the journey toward the monastery.

Dragalevtsi Monastery “Holy Mother of God”

As you begin your gentle descent from the mountain heights, the trail reveals a true historical treasure.

Founded in the 14th century, the Dragalevtsi Monastery was once a vital part of the “Sofia Holy Mountain” – a ring of spiritual centers surrounding the capital. Beyond its stunning religious frescoes and serene courtyard, the monastery holds a deeply patriotic legacy, having served as a secret refuge for Bulgaria’s national hero, Vasil Levski. Take a moment to wander through the quiet courtyard and feel the centuries of history preserved in this peaceful mountain retreat.

Restaurant “Vodenitzata”

Welcome to Vodenitzata – an iconic restaurant where great food, an exceptional wine selection, and authentic Bulgarian folklore come together.

Here, you can witness the magic of the Nestinarstvo fire-dancing ritual, performed barefoot on glowing embers to the sounds of Bulgarian music – a unique tradition passed down through generations.

Enjoy the fresh mountain air in the restaurant’s beautiful garden at the foot of Vitosha Mountain. Savor generous portions and traditional family recipes that bring the flavors of Bulgaria’s past to life.

We highly recommend Vodenitzata for an unforgettable culinary and cultural experience. Reserve your table and become part of the magic of Vodenitzata.

To commemorate this occasion, the Sofia City Art Gallery is presenting an exhibition of the artist's works in the gallery's collection created during the 1970s and 1980s.

As part of the exhibition, visitors can also watch a film dedicated to the work of Atanas Patsev.

WANDERINGS ABOUT HISTORY. THE PHOTOGRAPHY OF ULRICH WÜST

11.09 - 22.11.2026

Sofia City Art Gallery

Opening: September 10th, Thursday, 6 p.m. in the presence of Matthias Flügge

Curated by Matthias Flügge

The work of Ulrich Wüst first attracted attention in the 1980s, above all on account of his many Cityscapes, taken in several towns around the GDR. These images show scarring from the Second World War and an unchecked decay of historical built fabric. At the centre of his photographic interest, however, were those absurdities in urban situations that derive as much from a lack of attention or cluelessness as from wanton destruction or uncontrolled development. With his camera, Wüst evolved his own, very visual way of critiquing architecture. It has lost none of its poignancy today, especially as his argument is never ideological but borne along by a sense of phenomena that offers as much scope for subtle humour as for irony.

A wider international audience discovered Ulrich Wüst's photography when he was invited to exhibit at documenta 14 in Kassel in 2017. Ulrich Wüst's photographic oeuvre, which explores Eastern Germany in the broader sense, is not confined to the sunken GDR. It might be described as a pictorial archaeology of our present day. These pictures reveal the finds from his "excavations" and are at the same time tools of their conservation. Wüst has an infallible feel for the graphic quality of everyday situations, objects and materials, but also for the deeper layers of significance associated with found images. Examples are the enlarged details from East German press products that demonstrate a manipulative use of photography.

Ulrich Wüst's photographic work can be contemplated from different perspectives. While the observations captured here are essentially rooted in Germany's division and its mending, at the same time they always relate to universal phenomena of social change and its material manifestations. The seemingly terse images, extremely precise in their composition, are the fruits of lengthy visual wanderings through present sites of recent history.

СТРАНСТВАНИЯ ИЗ ИСТОРИЯТА. ФОТОГРАФИИТЕ НА УЛРИХ ВЮСТ

11.09 - 22.11.2026

Софийска градска
художествена галерия

Откриване: 10 септември, четвъртък 18:00 ч., в
присъствието на Матиас Флюге

Кураатор: Матиас Флюге

Творчеството на Улрих Вюст започва да привлича вниманието през 80-те години на XX век предимно с многобройните градски пейзажи, заснети из различни места в ГДР. Тези изображения показват белезите от Втората световна война и неугържимия упадък на историческата архитектурна тъкан. В центъра на фотографските му интереси обаче стоят абсурдите в градската среда, които произлизат както от немарливост и невежество, така и от безпричинно разрушаване и неконтролирано застрояване. Така с помощта на фотоапарата си Вюст развива собствен визуален подход за критика на архитектурата. И днес погледът му не е изгубил остротата си. Позицията на Вюст по същество не е идеологическа, а по-скоро носи усещане за уловени феномени, които предоставят пространство едновременно за фин хумор и ирония.

Широката международна публика открива фотографиите на Улрих Вюст през 2017 г. след участието им в изложбата Документа 14 в Касел. Работата му изследва Източна Германия в по-широк план, но тя не се изчерпва с „потъването“ на Германската демократична република, а би могла да се определи като визуална археология на настоящето. Тези фотографии разкриват находки от „разкопките“ и същевременно се превръщат в инструменти за тяхната консервация. Вюст притежава безпогрешен усет за графичните качества на всекидневните ситуации, предмети и материали, но и за по-дълбоките пластове от значения, които се крият зад намерените изображения. Пример за това са фотоувеличените детайли от източногермански печатни медии, изобличаващи една манипулативна употреба на фотографията.

Работата на Улрих Вюст може да бъде разглеждана от различни гледни точки. Запечатаните наблюдения почиват върху германското разделение и неговото преодоляване. В същото време винаги се отнасят към всеобщия феномен на социална промяна и неговите материални проявления. На пръв поглед лаконични, тези изключително прецизни в композиционен план изображения са плод на продължителни визуални странствания из местата от най-новата германска история.

IVAN HRISTOV

/1900-1987/

Till 20 September 2026

The Palace, 1, Knyaz Alexander I Sq., Sofia

Ivan Hristov (1900–1987), one of the most prominent masters of Bulgarian landscape painting, created hundreds of canvases reflecting the intransient in our native nature and Revivalist architecture, recreating and preserving their rich spiritual impact. He worked in this genre alongside Boris Denev, Nikola Tanev, Sirak Skitnik, Vladimir Rilski, Atanas Staykov, Danail Dechev, Pencho Georgiev, Mario Zhekov, among many others. He was a member of the Native Art Society. The painter's oeuvre is recognisable by its rich colour palette and expressive brushstrokes. The building elements of his style are in harmony with the material power of nature. Critics responded favourably to his strong individuality and idiosyncratic painting technique. High international recognition for the artist was the Gold Medal at the 1937 Paris International Exhibition, where he showed his painting, 'Sozopol Houses'.

Двореца, пл. „Княз Александър I“ №1

Иван Христов (1900–1987) е сред най-изявените майстори на българската пейзажна живопис. Създава стотици платна, отразили непреходното в родната природа и възрожденската ни архитектура, пресъздава и съхранява тяхното богато духовно въздействие. Работи в този жанр редом с Борис Денев, Никола Танев, Сирак Скитник, Владимир Рилски, Атанас Стайков, Данаил Дечев, Пенчо Георгиев, Марио Жеков и др. Членува в дружество „Родно изкуство“. Творчеството на живописеца е разпознаваемо чрез наситената цвetoва палитра и експресивна мазка. Градивните елементи на стила му са в съзвучие с веществената сила на натурата. Критиката реагира положително на силната му индивидуалност и характерната живописна техника. Високо международно признание за художника е златният медал от Световното изложение в Париж през 1937, на което показва картината „Созополски къщи“.

Pirin National Park

Nestled at the crossroads of Europe and Asia, Bulgaria is a land where ancient history, breathtaking landscapes and vibrant traditions come together. Inhabited since prehistoric times, the country has been shaped by the Thracians, Proto-Bulgarians and Slavs, whose remarkable legacy continues to enrich Europe's cultural heritage. According to ancient Greek mythology, the mystical Rhodope Mountains were home to Orpheus – the legendary poet and musician whose enchanting voice was said to charm people, animals and even the gods.

Every region of Bulgaria reveals a unique blend of history, culture and tradition, preserving countless masterpieces of both tangible and intangible heritage.

Among the country's greatest archaeological treasures is the Varna Chalcolithic Necropolis, dating back to around 4000 BC, where the world's oldest processed gold was discovered. Equally impressive are the Thracian tombs and sanctuaries of Kazanlak, Sveshtari, Starosel and Alexandrovo, together with the magnificent Thracian gold treasures that have made Bulgaria famous around the world.

The Bulgarian people have preserved this remarkable heritage while enriching it through centuries of history, creativity and spiritual tradition.

Bulgaria has made an enduring contribution to European civilisation. It gave the world the Proto-Bulgarian Calendar, considered one of the most accurate calendars of the ancient world; the Glagolitic alphabet, created by Saints Cyril and Methodius, who were later proclaimed Co-Patrons of Europe by Pope John Paul II; and the first translations of the Holy Scriptures into Old Bulgarian, laying the foundations of Slavic literacy. The country's medieval monasteries and churches are among Europe's finest cultural monuments. The magnificent Rila Monastery—the largest monastery in Bulgaria and one of the most impressive in the Balkans—is the country's spiritual symbol. Together with eight other remarkable sites, it is inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List. These include the Madara Rider, the Thracian Tomb of Kazanlak, Pirin National Park, Boyana Church, the Srebarna Nature Reserve, the Ancient City of Nessebar, the Thracian Tomb of Sveshtari, and the Rock-Hewn Churches of Ivanovo.

Bulgaria's picturesque heritage towns—including Arbanasi, Bozhentsi, Etar, Zheravna, Koprivshitsa, Kotel, Melnik, Nessebar, Sozopol and Tryavna—captivate visitors with their timeless charm, traditional architecture and authentic atmosphere. In this section, we invite you to discover some of Bulgaria's most fascinating destinations through carefully selected travel routes, together with practical tips and inspiring ideas to help you experience the country at its very best.

Рилски манастир

Страната ни е разположена на кръстопътя между Азия и Европа, земя с хилядолетна история. Територията на днешна България е населявана от незапомнени времена. Траките, прабългарите и славяните са оставили ярка следа в световното културно наследство.

Именно тук, в магичните Родопи, според древногръцката митология е живял Орфей – легендарният поет и музикант с ангелски глас, смятан за един от най-великите творци на Античността.

Всеки кът на България пази неповторими образци на материалната и духовната култура с изключителна художествена стойност.

Световноизвестни са Варненският халколитен некропол, датиран около 4000 г. пр. Хр., в който е открито най-старото обработено злато в света, както и тракийските гробници и светилища в Казанлък, Свещари, Старосел и Александрово, заедно с многобройните прочути тракийски златни съкровища.

Българите са наследили това древно културно богатство и са го обогатили с многовековния си исторически опит. Те са дали на света прабългарския календар, признат за един от най-точните в древността, първата славянска азбука, създадена от светите братя Кирил и Методий, които папа Йоан Павел II обявява за съпокровители на Европа, както и старобългарския превод на свещените книги.

Архитектурно-етнографски комплекс "Етѐра"

Средновековните манастири и църкви в България са сред най-ценните паметници на европейската култура. Особено място заема Рилският манастир – най-големият манастир в България и вторият по големина на Балканския полуостров. Той, заедно с още осем обекта, е включен в Списъка на световното културно и природно наследство на ЮНЕСКО. Сред тях са Магарският конник, Казанлъшката тракийска гробница, Национален парк „Пирин“, Боянската църква, природният резерват „Сребърна“, Старият град на Несебър, Свещарската тракийска гробница и Ивановските скални църкви.

Малките музейни градове с неповторима атмосфера – Арбанаси, Боженци, Етѐра, Жеравна, Копревщица, Котел, Мелник, Несебър, Созопол и Трявна – привличат посетители от цял свят. В тази рубрика ще намерите нашите предложения за туристически маршрути до най-забележителните места в страната, както и още много полезни съвети и идеи за пътуване.

КАКВО ОЩЕ ВИ ОЧАКВА ТУК?

Величествена природа

Насладете се на спиращи дъха пейзажи - от алпийското величие на Рила и Пирин до безкрайната синева на Черноморието и неговите златисти плажове, свързващи Дуранкулак и Резово.

Извор на здраве

Над 600 минерални извора превръщат страната ни в една от водещите и най-разнообразни СПА дестинации в Европа. Богати на лечебни свойства, тези термални води са безценен природен лек, който дълбоко регенерира организма и възвръща жизнения тонус.
